Présentation

This magnificent estate, part of a group of traditional buildings dating back to before the 19th century, is set on a plot of over 6,600 m² in a peaceful environment within a historic hamlet and located in an agricultural zone (not subject to taxation).

The property boasts generous volumes with numerous reception rooms, stunning views of the surrounding countryside, a lovely park with mature trees, and a large parking area.

The main house offers approximately 900 m² of living space spread over three levels (ground, first, and second floors), plus unfinished attic space.

The annex (northeast wing) provides around 130 m² of living space across two floors, including an industrial kitchen.

This building is currently used to host all kinds of events (seminars, weddings, receptions, etc.).

Renovation and modernization work is required.
