Présentation

Here we are on the last row of houses in the hills above the charming village of Bevaix. Here, peace and security are the watchwords. This exceptional location offers breathtaking views of the Alps and the lake, which you will never tire of.

This house, built in 1994 by its current owners, who took great care in its construction, offers a spacious interior ideal for all families, including large ones. You will notice that the sloping plot allowed for a hillside construction offering beautiful openings on all levels, without exception. This means that all floors are habitable. You will also appreciate the great flexibility of use, with, for example, the possibility of converting the current lower level into independent accommodation or premises.

The exteriors are equally impressive and will convince even the most skeptical. They offer high-quality amenities, including a heated indoor pool with adjoining bathrooms.
